Legal Crossfire Snares Council in Ranch Hearing

Menlo Park's city council approached the aspect of a court of law Tuesday night and at times found itself ensnared in a legal crossfire of objections, motions to strike testimony, attorney's arguments, and the examination of sworn witnesses.

The occasion was the public hearing concerning alleged violation of health and safety codes at buildings on the flower ranch operated by Gabriel Magabilin and his associates at the corner of Oak avenue and Olive street.

A notice to abate the reported violations was directed to Magabilin, who occupies the premises under lease, on April 10 from the San Mateo county health department. A similar notice was served on Harry Arnold, president of Peninsula Pacific Construction company, owners of the land.

City council granted, on April 24, a 30-day extension.

PLAN TOUR

And for all its efforts, the council was forced to withhold its decision until the regular meeting of June 12 and to plan a personal tour of the property involved.

First legal hurdle in Tuesday night's proceedings was posed by the request of Eugene Kennedy, counsel for Magabilin, that an official court reporter be designated to make a transcript of the hearing.

The question was finally resolv-

District Attorney Files 'Friendly' Condemnation Suit

The San Mateo county district attorney's office has filed "friendly" condemnation proceedings against Stanford university for acquisition of the Oak Knoll school site by the Menlo Park elementary school district.

The office is now attempting to reach an agreement with the university as to terms of stipulations setting the amount to be paid for the 8½ acre site and additional sums to be paid for street work or other improvements.

The action was taken pursuant to a resolution passed alst week by the school district's board of trustees, calling for institution of such proceedings.

Deputy District Attorney Keith Sorenson said yesterday that his office is now awaiting action by Stanford officials, to determine whether the university will accept the stipulations or whether it will be necessary to schedule court proceedings.

Meanwhile, master plan for the school was to be discussed last night at a meeting of the school district's board of trustees and parents.

Kingsford Jones has been verbally named as architect for the school, site of which is bounded by Vine street and proposed extensions of Sandhill road and Oak avenue.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Everett Cook, carpenter who resides at 457 Kenwood avenue, was described by Palo Alto hospital attendants as being in "improved condition" this week is recovering from injuries sustained in a fall from a scaffold Friday afternoon.

IN CASE OF FIRE CALL DA 3-2404

Casey Says:

Puckering Up Won't Sweeten A Sour Grape

"Trouble come in bunches, like sour grapes," said Casey McSnort, the amateur aphorist.

Reason is, folks meet some trouble and then go around expectin' more. Lookin' for trouble, they find it."

Casey was leaning against the mail box at the corner of Santa Cruz and El Camino. "Right here," he said, waving his hand around the Menlo Park business district, "they is a lot of business men who is happy, bright fellows when business is good.

"But comes one bad day, and they pucker up like they bit a sour grape, and they decides business is turrible. When a customer does come in they give him a smile like Harry Truman sayin', 'Welcome home, Doug'.

"An' then the customer feels bad, too, and pretty soon business is really turrible.

"Instead of frownin' and mumblin' to theirselves, they ought to get together an' figure something to do about it. Like all throw a shivaree for the customers.

"When you bite a sour grape, don't just pucker. Even sour grapes make good jelly, if you add enough sugar and start cookin'."

Plaisted Carries MP Area in Voting But Moore, Winther Win Sequoia Posts

With all the votes tallied from last Friday's school board elections, it was clear that the Menlo Park area had failed to preserve its 30-year tradition of a seat on the Sequoia Union high school district board of trustees.

Dr. Ferrall H. Moore, Redwood City, and Reidar (Ray) Winther, San Carlos, who had campaigned as a team, easily took both vacancies with votes of 3896 and 3792 respectively.

Menlo Park's candidate, Guy E. Plaisted, ran third with a total vote of 2582, while Lauress L. Wise, San Carlos, ran fourth with 2518.

(A tabulation of returns in the school elections, broken down by districts, will be found on Page 4.)

Plaisted ran far ahead in the three school districts of the Menlo Park area, amassing a total of 1529 votes against 431 for Dr. Moore and 425 for Winther.

Wise, too, did well in the southern part of the district, running up 1210 votes. But for both men, this lead was wiped out by returns from the Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont districts.

Memorial Day Rites Set By Legion Post

Traditional Memorial Day observances will be the order of the day in Menlo Park next Wednesday, May 30.

Members of Menlo Park American Legion post 443 will hold their annual ceremony, decorating graves at Holy Cross cemetery and placing wreaths at the bases of trees, dedicated to Menlo Park servicemen who died in World War II, in Fremont park.

The Menlo Park city hall and all city departments, with the exception of the police department, will be closed for the day. Most businesses in the city will also be closed.

MORNING RITES

The Legion's observances are to begin at the park, Santa Cruz avenue and University drive, at 9:30 a.m. After placing of the wreaths, members of the organization and its auxiliary will proceed by auto to the cemetery, where they will hold a brief Memorial Day service and decorate 33 graves of veterans of the Spanish-American war and World Wars I and II.

The wreaths to be placed were to be made by members of the post at a meeting scheduled for the night og May 29.

Postoffice Calls Bids For Atherton Station

Proposals for the conduct of a contract postal station in Atherton will be received at the Menlo Park postoffice until 5 p.m. May 28, Postmaster Harry B. Morey said yesterday.

The proposed contract station must be centrally situated, Morey said, and is to have facilities for money order, parcel post, sale of postal supplies and receipt and dispatch of mail. The proposed station's contract will be for the two years ending June 30, 1953.

A contract station is presently in operation at the Atherton Town hall, with W. Howard Boren clerk in charge.

After $1,500,000 Victory

Sequoia Bond Backers Thank Volunteers

Winding up the details of its successful $1,500,000 Sequoia bond campaign, the Sequoia high school bond committee at its final meeting last night in Redwood City, paid high tribute to the work accomplished in the campaign by volunteer workers.

Harrison Johnston, Menlo Park general chairman, and Mrs. Virginia West, co-chairman of the Menlo-Atherton area, declared the bond victory, by a better than four to one majority, would not have been possible without the active support of the volunteer group.

Mrs. West expressed special appreciation to her committee in the Menlo-Atherton area, where the first of two new high schools in the district is to open in September.

The recent bond issue provides a fund of some $170,000 for the construction of a new classroom building at Menlo-Atherton high school.

Assisting Mrs. West in the south county area was the following committee of active workers:

Mrs. William Arthur, Mrs. Harry Murov, and Mrs. James Booth of the Belle Haven area; Mrs. Agnes Lundgren, North Palo Alto, Menlo Oaks and Suburban Park; Mrs. Judith G. Pool and Mrs. Martha B. Merk, Las Lomitas area; Mrs. Leo B. Varty, Freemont-Hillview, and Mrs. Max Forsythe, Central-Encinal area.

Friday Blood Donations To Be Shipped Immediately to Fighting Fronts

Blood donations collected in Menlo Park tomorrow, May 25, by the Sequoia chapter, American Red Cross "Bloodmobile will be processed the same day and shipped by air freight to Korea.

The "Bloodmobile," cosponsored on the Friday visit by Menlo Park American Legion post 443, will be at the Menlo Park civic center from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. William Baxter, Sequoia chapter public information chairman, said this week that the collections will be processed as whole blood in San Francisco, and shipped immediately from Travis air force base. The rapid handling has been made necessary by the recent outbreak of heavier fighting in Korea.

Mrs. Frank Heathman, chapter blood donation chairman, said that persons without appointments may make donations at the civic center tomorrow between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon, provided they have only black coffee and fruit juice for breakfast.

Persons wishing to make appointments for donations, or desiring further information, were urged to contact Red Cross chapter headquarters in Redwood City, EM 6-3851.

Other Actions By:

CITY COUNCIL

In other actions Tuesday night the Menlo Park city council:

1. Approved the schedule of proposed rates for use of the Burgess park swimming pool this summer;

2. Approved an agreement between the city and the Southern Pacific railroad to allow installation of a 30-inch drain under the railroad property at Henderson street, to eliminate cause of a recurrent pond in the Suburban Park area;

3. Filed and referred to the city engineer, city manager and city attorney a petition from property owners along Garden lane that that street be accepted by the city as a public thoroughfare, and

4. Accepted the tentative map of a three-acre subdivision in the Grace Yale tract on Elder avenue.

BITTEN BY DOG

Anthony Nitrio, 72, 950 Fremont street, was reportedly bitten by a dog owned by F. Schuhe of 875 Middle avenue, last week. According to the Menlo Park poundmaster's report, the man was bitten on the arm, so severely that several stitches were required to close the wound.

Treatment Plant Site Test Pilings Sunk

Pilings which will support the heavy units of the Menlo Park Sanitary district's sewage treatment plant were to be ordered following completion last week of the sinking of 'test piles' to determine the length of those needed to support the plant's machinery.

Sanitary district Superintendent Cedric Webster said that the tests indicated that the vertical supports would have to be of 40 to 62 foot length.

A total of 384 pilings will be used, in order to provide a more-than-adequate "margin of safety" for the heavier units of the plant, now under construction by Peter Sorenson, contractor, at the side of West Point slough one mile east of Bayshore highway opposite Marsh road.

The pilings are of the "friction" type and do not reach "bedrock" or other foundation material, Webster said. They will not sink further than originally driven because of the adhesive qualities of the mud surrounding them.

Illustrating, Webster reported that one of the test piles, driven to the 60-foot depth, sank one foot with each 22 strokes of the pile driver originally, but 230 strokes of the pile driver were needed to sink the piling an additional foot after it had been allowed to stand overnight.

tarian who lives in Los Trancos Woods, drew 1199 votes, and Allen M. Kremer, Redwood City, 416.

Moore and Winther will take their seats on the board after the present terms of Menlo Park Mayor Charles P. Burgess and Merritt Hosmer of San Carlos expire June 30.

FERGUSON WINS IN LAS LOMITAS

In the Las Lomitas Elementary School district, where an unusually large turnout had been expected following recent weeks of dissension over resignation of former superintendent Beecher Harris and actions of the board in appointing Lawrence J. Fuller to the post, a comparatively light vote gave Mrs. J. R. Ferguson the victory by a margin of 58 ballots.

Mrs. Ferguson received 277 votes, while Dr. Carl Duncan amassed 219. The total of 496 votes cast in the race still fell 50 short of the number who last year elected Albert L. Makle over incumbent Wallace O. Jones by 393 to 193.

Mrs. Ferguson became the first of Friday's victorious candidates to taste the actual fruits of her victory. She was appointed Tuesday by County School Superintendent James R. Tormey to fill out the term of Dr. Lawrence H. Cook. Dr. Cook submitted his immediate resignation from the board to Tormey in a letter written last Saturday, and concluded:

"If you should see fit to appoint Mrs. Ferguson, Board Member Elect, to fill out the remainder of my term, I believe the best interests of the District would be served."

After being sworn in Tuesday morning, Mrs. Ferguson gave the RECORDER this statement:

"Now that the election is over, I wish to help in doing something constructive to settle the differences of opinion of the district.

"I intend to try to pursue the points mentioned in my platform, and I wish to keep the people of the district well and thoroughly informed on the pending actions of the board."

HOLLAND RETAINS MENLO PARK SEAT

Incumbent trustee Ben G. Hollond of the Menlo Park Elementary School district easily retained his post in a three-way race.

Holland amassed 536 votes as against 163 for Joseph L. Sherk and 98 for Sherman Prosser.

MRS. PINGREE TAKES RAVENSWOOD VOTE

In the Ravenswood Elementary School district, the trustee post being vacated by George F. Gayer was won by Irene (Mrs. Warren) Pingree, who received 491 votes against 201 for her opponent, Peter N. Nansen.

ed, after three quarters of an hour of argument, by the council's recognition of the fact that E. W. Olson, an official court reporter for the courts of the county was present.

Eugene M. Howell, public health engineer for San Mateo county, was then, at the request of attorney Kennedy, sworn in and presented the health department's report of alleged violations on the premises.

Howell admitted that he had not personally inspected the premises, but was relying on the reports of his subordinates.

WHO STARTED IT?

Kennedy attempted to establish that the request for inspection came from Arnold in an effort to force the Magabilins to vacate the property.

"Upon whose request was the inspection made?" Kennedy asked.

"I have no idea," Howell replied.

"I also request that the testimony by Mr. Howell be stricken from the record," said Kennedy, declaring that it was all hearsay evidence.

The health department report was admitted to the record by the council on the grounds that the hearing was informal in nature.

LONGSON TESTIFIES

City Manager C. L. Longson was sworn in and reported that he had made a personal inspection of the premises and had found raw sewage running into San Francisquito creek at two places, a situation which he understood had been corrected.

He also found, Longson said, that butane tanks at the three wooden structures on the property were not properly connected and not properly vented and that wiring was far below standard.

Mrs. Gertrude Magabilin was then called to testify by Kennedy.

She indicated that she had lived on the premises in an existing house for about 10 years and had raised her children there without illness.

She recalled a previous visit from a representative of the county health department at which time no objections had been made to sanitary conditions, and reviewed conversations with Arnold in which he had made several proposals to have them vacate the premises.

'IRREVELANT'

Colin Peters, Palo Alto attorney who was present representing Arnold, voiced an objection that it was irrevelant at whose request the subsequent inspections were made.

Mayor Burgess stated that "the council hears many irrevelant things," and the questioning was allowed to continue.

Mrs. Magabilin recalled that at her last meeting with Arnold he had offered an agreement for vacating the premises which they refused to sign. "He was quite upset about it," she said.

Victor Fangonilo, share-cropper on the property, testified that the quarters occupied by himself and his family, including three children, are much better than quarters they had occupied previously at another nursery near Stanford university.

TOLD TO GO AHEAD

Gabriel Magabilin testified that one of the buildings on the property was there when he and his family settled there and that two newer structures had been built in 1948.

When he asked for a building permit to erect them to house the families of men working for him who had no other place to live, he said, the city building inspector told him to go ahead and build them anyway inasmuch as the lease on the property was to expire at the end of 1952 and the buildings would then be torn down.

Kennedy called to the stand George Williams of Palo Alto, a registered housing sanitarian and former employee of the Santa Clara county health department.

Williams said he had, at Kennedy's request, inspected the premises and found no conditions which made them unfit for human habitation from the sanitary standpoint.

FROM AUDIENCE

This brought a rejoinder from Howell, who asked if a lack of bathing facilities was not considered unsanitary.

Mrs. Eugene Kennedy, counsel's wife, then rose from the audience to remark that:

"As long as you have running water and soap in a house, anyone can keep clean."

Mrs. Kennedy was then called to testify under examination by her husband's collegue, Daniel Feeley. She said she and her husband lived at 320 Olive street, directly across from the property in question, that she has been a registered nurse since 1939 and that she had visited the premises and found everything clean and the children immaculate.

Arthur Smith, circulator of a petition to have the alleged unsafe and unsanitary conditions at the property corrected, said he first learned of the situation during a visit to the office of the Peninsula Pacific Construction company, where he was shown the report of the official inspection.

Decision of the city council to keep the hearing open until the next regular meeting pending personal inspection by the council was held up by Kennedy's objections to their making the inspection in company with the officials who made the original report.

Mayor Burgess, however, declared that without expert guidance, the councilmen could not be expected to discover any alleged violations by themselves and that the council would be impartial in judging the importance of any violations found.

One more interruption was made by a plea from Mrs. Magabilin, who said that all the talk was of codes, but the fact that three families were living on the premises and that they had no other place to go was being overlooked.

Also tentatively assigned were the district's four principals, Donald Hurst, Richard Johnson, Glen Smith and Ina Porter, who are to remain at their present schools.

Fire District Installs Sirens At Crossings

Sirens, to be blown when fire engines are to cross El Camino Real or Bayshore highway on their way to a fire, have been installed at three of the highway's intersections by the Menlo Park fire district.

The installations are situated at Santa Cruz avenue and El Camino Real in Menlo Park, Almendral avenue and El Camino Real in Atherton and Manhattan avenue and Bayshore highway in East Palo Alto.

Fire District Deputy Chief George Carter explained that the sirens are operated from fire stations near them, to warn motorists on the highway of the approach of fire engines.

The siren at El Camino Real and Santa Cruz avenue, for instance, is operated from the Merrill street headquarters station, and is to warn motorists travelling north and south on the highway of the approach of firefighting apparatus on the cross street.

Motorists should stop, when they hear the siren, regardless of the color of traffic lights at the intersection.

The other two sirens are situated less than a block from the East Palo Alto and Atherton fire stations, and are to be controlled from those stations.

MP Residents Given Garden Club Awards

Mrs. Sara Farmer and her brother, Benjamin Spurr, 1036 College avenue, were honored recently with presentation of the green ribbon certificate of the San Mateo County Men's garden club. The award is given for outstanding gardens personally attended.

They were recommended for the prize by William Connelly, secretary of the club.

Mrs. Farmer has for the past two years been chairman of the garden and home section of the Menlo Park Women's club.

As We See It . . .

ABOUT OUR SCHOOL . . .

It was a good race, that Sequoia High school trustee election.

With six men running for two vacancies on the board, it couldn't help being a good race, even for the onlookers in the grandstand who didn't care enough one way or another to buy a two-dollar ticket . . . and they could have voted for free.

But for a great many people, not content to stay in the stands, but who got right down on the track and worked for one candidate or another, the outcome of the race was a disappointment.

It had to be. Only two could win; four had to lose.

Disappointment is natural, but it won't get us anywhere.

Dr. Ferrall H. Moore and Reidar (Ray) Winther have been elected and will take over their posts on the board the first of July. They are, we feel, good men and will do their best to be good trustees. Let's give them a chance to be and let's help them to represent our interests.

The RECORDER strongly supported Guy E. Plaisted of Menlo Park for one of the posts. We felt that it was important for the Menlo Park-Atherton area to be represented on the board by a man who was not only well qualified but who lived here, in this end of the district, and who was therefore sensitive to the interests of this end of the district.

Apparently the voters of this area agreed with us. The election returns prove it: in the three elementary school districts here, Plaisted polled more than three and a half times as many votes as either Moore or Winther.

But the Menlo Park-Atherton area was outvoted.

Many times during the campaign Winther stated, "Although I live in San Carlos, if elected I will not be a representative of San Carlos but of the entire district". Dr. Moore has taken a similar position. Winther has repeated it since his victory.

We believe they meant what they said. It is up to them now to prove that they respect the election-proved desire of this area for direct representation. They can do so by listening to the wishes of the parents of children attending the Menlo-Atherton high school.

It has been said that a desire for direct representation from one corner of an area as small as the Sequoia Union High School district is petty and provincial.

But it is not provincialism to point out that, with the opening of Menlo-Atherton next fall, issues primarily affecting that school alone will from time to time have to be decided by the trustees of the whole district.

It is not provincialism to point out that the people—the only people—really interested in those issues will be the youngsters attending that school and the parents of those youngsters.

In a fair and square election we lost our chance for the direct representative to whom we could make our wishes known.

But we have in Moore and Winther two reputable men who have said they would do their best to represent the entire district.

It is up to us in this area to give them a chance to do that. Let's follow the actions of the Sequoia board and let's tell the board what we think, particularly when a matter concerning OUR school—the Menlo-Atherton school—is at stake.

And it will be up to them to listen.

Sequoia Balloting Weighed

By MAYOR CHAS. P. BURGESS

The "team" of Moore and Winther swept the Sequoia high school trustee election by securing 3896 and 3792 votes, respectively, against Plaisted's 2582. Wise was fourth with 2518.

Although our three southern school districts went heavily for Plaisted, the much greater voting strength in the northern and central parts of the district swamped our candidate. In the Menlo Park school district, Plaisted got almost five votes for every one the "team" average, in Las Lomitas over four, and in Ravenswood about two and one-third.

However, in Belmont the "team" averaged five and one-half votes for each one for Plaisted, in San Carlos three and one-half, and in Redwood City, three. Sixty per cent of Plaisted's votes came from our own three school districts. The "team" got only 11% of its votes here.

Although the Menlo Park school district turnout to vote was the largest on record for a school election, it was less than 12% of the total vote in the district. The three southern school districts cast 28% of the vote. In short, with a lack of support in the balance of the district, we just didn't have enough of a turnout of registered voters (I thing it was about 20% of the eligible list) to maintain our representation on the board. In the district as a whole, the turnout was a little under that of 1949 when Cole and Bowen defeated Hilton and Brewer.

Our principal campaign argument was the one of representation. We pay 29% of the taxes supporting Sequoia high school, and have about 27% of the students in the school.

There are many matters concerning the Menlo-Atherton school which have come before the board in the last year involving both policy and detail. Examples are determining the attendance area, whether to expend money for a curb along Ringwood road, selection of principal and teaching staff, whether to put a better appearing and longer lasting type of roof on the classroom buildings, how much landscaping to provide, and numerous other matters of importance to south county people.

With the opening of the school, items affecting it coming before the board will multiply. Parents in our area must keep themselves informed on these matters and be present at board meetings to express themselves on them. Although the board will be composed of high caliber individuals this coming year, they cannot know how the local people feel unless you let them know.

In my three years on the board very few Menlo Park people have attended trustees' meetings, although a number of people from other sections of the district attend more or less regularly.

Our issue or representation met little support outside our boundaries because the northern section did not see their own interest in preservation of this principle, by the confusion created by erroneous rumors and charges, and by the fact that Dr. Moore and Mr. Winther are well and favorably known throughout the district.

Sport Shop Nine Comes From Behind To Down M & F, 10-6; Rivals to Clash

By DENNIS ANDERSON

M-A LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L	GB
Abrott & Leigh	2	0	-
Magnuson & Florence	1	1	1
Menlo Square Mkt.	0	2	2

The Magnuson and Florence real estate squad lost an early lead and went on to lose to Shreve and Burgess sports shop Saturday, 10-6, at Encinal.

The sport shop victory threw the two teams into a deadlock for second place. Abrott and Leigh Paints, with victories over the Sport Shop and Menlo Square market, holds top honors in the junior league.

Shreve and Burgess tallied two runs in the first, none in the second and third, two in each the fourth and fifth, four in the sixth, and none in the seventh.

Magnuson and Florence checked in with four runs in the first and two in the fifth.

Rich Cottrell twirled the distance for the realtors, issuing two earned runs, six hits, and nine bases on balls. He struck out three. The loss was his first of the season in league play and his second in total games.

TWO PITCHERS

Ned Hales and Healy pooled their pitching efforts for the victors, Hales working three innings and Healy four. Hales walked none and struck out one, giving up five hits and two earned runs. Healy, the winning pitcher, was reached for only one hit. He walked three and fanned four, issuing two earned runs.

John and Bill Symon stood out for the losers. John turned in steady defensive work and collected three for three at the plate, scoring twice. Bill handled six flies and two grounders without a miscue, participating in one double play. He got one for three at the plate.

Shortstop Mike Goin hit two-for-three to lead Shreve and Burgess offensively. However, Healy's sparkling relief performance on the hill was the outstanding play of the day.

RIVALS TO CLASH

Magnuson and Florence and Abrott and Leigh, traditional rivals, will meet each other Saturday at 10 a.m. at Central school. Dan Varty and Jerry Angelo will handle the unmpires chores.

Gary Imig (2-0) will open on the mound for Abrott and Leigh, while Cottrell will get the starting nod for Magnuson and Florence. The A & L team will be gunning for their first victory over the Realtors.

Magnuson and Florence has dumped the paint store nine four times in the last two years, never losing. Two of the victories were by one-run margins however, and one game went into extra innings.

Costs of Living Index from U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics

Your P. G. and E. rates— lower today than in 1940!

Despite an 87% increase in the cost of living since 1940, your P. G. and E. rates are lower today than 10 years ago. In fact, they are among the very lowest in the nation. Why do your gas and electricity cost less? Because: 1. The more you use, the less you pay for additional gas and electricity. And today you use nearly twice as much as you did ten years ago. 2. Alert employees and careful management constantly improve our efficiency. The savings that result are passed along to you. Remember: The rate you pay is lower, though your utility bill may be more than in 1940 because you use more gas and electricity.

P. G. and E. foreman Tom Stermer says: "One reason your rates are lower is because the Company encourages all hands to improve service, cut waste, improve efficiency. I received a $700 award last year for an idea that cut production costs."

Mr. Fred J. Marchi, Los Gatos butcher, one of P. G. and E's 170,000 stockholders. Through their investment we have been able to meet the increased demand for gas and power. We have spent over $700,000,000 since 1945 on new facilities.

P·G·and·E·
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Mrs. Frank M. Cooley, Greenbrae housewife says: "With two youngsters to feed, and a 7-room house to take care of, you bet I depend on my appliances! Yet our P. G. and E. bill is about the smallest item in my monthly household expenses."

Autos driven by John Bernard Phillips, 18-year-old Menlo School and College student and Charles Arthur Anderson, 33, of Berkeley, were involved in a traffic mishap at El Camino Real and Valparaiso avenue at 1:25 p.m. Saturday.

According to the Menlo Park police, the accident occurred after Phillips, whose car was headed south on the highway, started up after stopping for a stop signal. Anderson was making a left turn from the northbound lanes of the highway.

Both autos were towed from the scene.

Re-routing Long Distance circuits—one of the many interesting, vital jobs for women in the telephone business.

THE GIRLS BEHIND EACH TELEPHONE "HELLO"

Theirs are important jobs—and they do them well

1. Here's one business where the spotlight's really on women. Because of the nature of telephone work, nearly two out of every three telephone people are women—a high percentage. And they must be capable, well-trained women to handle your calls efficiently and serve you well in our offices. We train them, at our expense of course. And they earn good money in this important work.

2. Practically every sort of job—from accounting to teaching—can be found in our business. In addition to good pay, the girls have the security of the company-paid Benefit Plan and enjoy holidays and vacations with pay. All know they have a good chance to advance as their ability grows. Perhaps the best evidence of the importance of women to us is that hundreds have management jobs.

3. It would be hard to imagine work for women today more important than a job in our nation's telephone service. For now, more than ever, our country needs swift, reliable communications to help speed the job of defense. And it's reassuring to know that in these days of high prices on most everything, you still get a bargain when you buy telephone service. Here in the West, on the average, telephone rates are up less than half as much as the cost of living.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

BANKING SERVICE TAILORED FOR TEXTILES

Back in '37, when Americans were just beginning to prefer California clothes, Bank of America offered the textile industry two highly specialized services—factoring and accounts receivable financing. Maybe you've never heard of them, but to a textile man they're the "life-blood of the industry."

Today California clothes are worn by millions . . . and California's textile industry is a leading producer of wealth and jobs! And by lending $8,000,000 a month, Bank of America continues to play an important part in the progress of this great California industry.

But lending is only part of the bank's job —for businesses need deposit services, too. Commercial checking accounts are vital to business firms, and Bank of America provides them for any business, large or small.

Here is statewide branch banking in operation—a banking service that is possible only because of progressive policies, vast resources, and statewide branch facilities.

Young Republicans Select Delegates

Mrs. William Bancroft of Atherton and Paul Keckley of Redwood City were named as delegate and alternate to the San Mateo County Young Republican club's executive committee at a recent meeting.

First and third Wednesdays of each month have been chosen for future meetings of the executive committee, Mrs. Bancroft announced.

Other business discussed at the recent meeting at which the delegate and alternate were named included plans for a possible fund raising project and reports of activities of the organized south county Young Republicans.

PLAN FOR VISIT

Menlo Park Junior Native Daughters of the Golden West are now making plans to receive state officers of the senior organization, scheduled to make an official visit at the junior group's June 1 meeting at Central school.

Tetanus Immunization Urged for CD Corps

State civilian defense authorities have issued an appeal urging immunization against tetanus, Menlo Park civil defense council Chairman C. L. Longson said this week.

The state agency pointed out that such immmunization is valuable in normal times and, in case of an emergency, would be even more necessary.

Menlo Park's civil defense volunteers will be urged to comply with the program and to become immunized or take "booster shots" if needed, Longson added.

TO PRESENT COLORS

Menlo Park Mayor Charles P. Burgess has agreed to present colors to Menlo Park Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial post 7145, at that organization's "Institution Night" ceremonies at Burgess park gym June 16, Senior Vice Commander George Lange reported. The organization's auxiliary is to be activated the same evening.

Mayor Issues Proclamation Urging Men To Join Reserve Unit

Menlo Park Mayor Charles P. Burgess this week issued a proclamation calling on all eligible men to enlist in Battery D, California national guard reserve, now organizing in the Menlo Park-Palo Alto area.

The soon-to-be activated unit is open to male citizens between the ages of 17 and 65, and will replace the Menlo Park national guard unit if the latter is called to active duty. When finally organized, the group will meet weekly, Monday nights at the recreation building, civic center.

Twenty enlisted men and four officers are needed before the unit may be activated.

Battery D, when activated, will be a part of the 14th battalion, national guard reserve unit for San Mateo and northern Santa Clara county. Batteries have been organized in Redwood City and San Mateo.

Captain Reinhold Albrecht, 1641 Santa Cruz avenue, said this week that former officers and men who are otherwise eligible may be enlisted or commissioned at the highest rank held in the U. S. armed forces.

"The activity is particularly urged for those men who will not be subject to call into the federal military service in the event of a major emergency," Capt. Albrecht said. "Men from the reserve will not be called into state service except in the utmost emergency, and in such a case they would receive the same pay, allowances and benefits.

"Prior military service, however, is not essential, and men who were too young for World War I but over age for World War II are especially urged to join."

Persons desiring further information were asked to contact Capt. Albrecht at DA 2-1034.

The national guard reserve was formerly known as the California defense and security corps.

These are the days when we live more outdoors than in—and why not with such attractions as the weather, the opening of the recreation areas at Flood and Burgess parks, the weather, the increase in appetite for barbecues and picnic, the lure of day-long jaunts to the beach or the mountains—and of course the weather.

POOL OPENING PROVES IT:

Summer Has Come to MP Area

With official opening of the Burgess Park swimming pool this weekend, residents of the Menlo Park area will be confronted with an indisputable fact:

In Menlo Park, it is summertime!

Meanwhile, City Recreation Director Fred Parsons took time out to review some features of the complicated plant that keeps the big swimming pool operating.

The mere filling of the pool is in itself a considerable project.

Although the water inlet is a pipe more than six inches in diameter, it takes about two and a half day to completely fill the 50-by-100 foot pool to its 280,000-gallon capacity.

PUMPS STARTED

After the pool is filled the pumps which carry the water to the filters are started.

The filters—there are three of them—are simple in construction but effective in operation, Parsons explained. They consist of "boxes," about four feet by 10 feet by 15 feet, filled with clean sand through which the water percolates.

Each year, the top six inches of sand must be removed and changed; other than that, the filters require only routine inspection and maintenance.

From the filters, the water is pumped to a "chlorinator," in which chlorine is added to the water.

AUTOMATIC CONTROL

The metering instruments which form a part of this machine automatically control the amount of chlorine in the water, keeping a constant amount in the pool at all times.

About 20 pounds of chlorine are used each day during the swimming season, Parsons said.

To counteract acid properties in the chlorine, soda ash is also added. The metering devices keeping the resultant solution "neutural."

After this, the water flows back into the pool.

It doesn't all stay there, though, Parsons explained.

Evaporation and "splash" can remove as much as four inches of water from the surface of the pool on a hot day.

That's about 1650 cubic feet of water, estimated to be about the amount that the average Menlo Park family uses in a month.

During the swimming season, the health of patrons must be safeguarded at all times by additional cleaning measures.

Mornings, before the pool is opened, its bottom is "vacuumed" with a suction hose to remove sediments that have settled during the night.

On the single day of the week that the pool is closed to the public, a more thorough vacuuming is done, to take advantage of the fact that more sediment will settle to the bottom during the longer period in which the water isn't being "stirred" by swimmers.

NOTHING 'SPECIAL'

Thus far, nothing "special" has turned up in the debris removed from the bottom of the pool, according to Parsons. Hairpins, metal clothing checks and swimming cap straps are among the items frequently found in the vacuum cleaner.

Main threat to swimmers' safety is glass which might be kicked into the pool.

"We've been lucky so far," the rec director stated, "in not having any glass or broken bottles finding their way into the water.

"Such things can be a real menace."

The summer schedule calls for having the pool open from 1:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. four days a week, with swimming and diving lessons for all persons over 5 years of age being held mornings.

The swimming pool will be open to all on Saturdays and Sundays, with no classes held in the mornings.

The rec department will also sponsor a swimming team during the summer, for competition with similar groups representing other pools in the south county area.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it improper to say "thank you" to a servant?

A. Most certainly not. A sincerely spoken "thank you" is never out of place.

Q. What is the proper way to point the prongs of the fork when cutting food and when eating it?

A. The prongs of the fork should point downwards when cutting the food, upwards when conveying it to the mouth.

At Last, Women's Clubs Get Their Due in Press and Radio Publicity

WOMEN HAVE COME A LONG WAY . . . when they can get as fine, intelligent publicity as the recent meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs has just had . . . through both press and radio.

I've watched this for many years and was at one time in both the state and general federation publicity departments . . . and we often had uphill going. Much of this was our own fault, but that is another story that I'll reach later.

Added to the national press comment during the Houston meeting was the impact of an excellent article in the Saturday Evening Post . . . THE WOMEN'S CLUBS—What They Mean to America—by Jerome Ellison. True, we've had many articles on clubs in major magazines, often written by women and often critical. I've written several of them myself, on the principle that if we need housecleaning, we're the ones to do it.

MEANS TO END

But Mr. Ellison seems to have had a clubwoman-mother who impressed him with the enormous amount of good that clubs may do . . . his only adverse recollection being that the ladies in his own home ate too many of the expensive cookies he hoped would be left over.

And he understands what so many men . . . and many women who don't belong to clubs . . . haven't grasped . . . so important a point that it deserves its own paragraph.

Our rummage sales, our cake and pie sales, many of our teas and luncheons and other . . . often lavish . . . social functions are MEANS TO AN END. We're not always entertaining ourselves.

Most often we're using these affairs to raise money for desirable community improvements. Sometimes we can present a cause, attract public attention, better within the frame of a social function that will get newspaper space.

SET IT STRAIGHT

There are two points that I want to make, however, in connection with the recent publicity. I heard one radio commentator use four different names for the General Federation within as many days. Its name has always been GENERAL, rather than National, because it has had international members for many years. Toward the end of the week, he got the General right but was still calling it a Confederation!

And there is no reason why only members of the various federated clubs should be known as "Clubwomen". Personally, although I've belonged to almost everything I could get into, I've never wanted to be known as a "clubwoman".

But in my book of ten years ago, devoted to clubwomen and their interests, I used the term as applied to ALL organized women, not just G. F. W. C. members. And most reviewers agreed that that was correct.

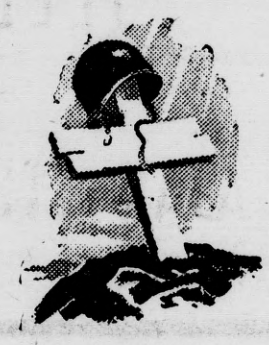

Q. How can I relieve the pain of a burn?

A. Scrape a raw potato fine and place it over the burn. When the scrapings become hot, renew the application until all the heat is absorbed.

MANY WOMEN who are very happy with the way in which their homes are constructed and decorated frequently despair of their bathrooms. "Too small," they say. "Not enough room for anything," others add.

Even smaller bathrooms have possibilities for definite decoration, and some of the smallest can be transformed so they offer almost amazing storage possibilities. Frequently you'll find that once storage room has been added to the bathroom, it can be more attractive than before.

Good use of space is not only a practical idea, but it can be beautiful because of its use. Imagine being able to display your cosmetics in the bathroom, in their attractive containers. You'll appreciate their beauty, as well as your convenience to them.

Consider how useful and lovely it would be if you could display your lovely thick towels in all their luscious colors, on open shelves in the bathroom.

Wouldn't you like a built-in vanity in your bathroom, if even a small one? With a lovely waterproof skirt, it can add decor to the room as well as interest.

Have you seen the lovely glass, as well as the jewel-toned plastic gadgets which can be placed in bathrooms for convenience in hanging daily washed items such as hose and gloves? You can appreciate their beauty as well as enjoy their practicality.

Does your bathroom have a medicine chest? If not, you are missing one of the greatest conveniences. With small children, you can store away all poisons and dangerous drugs in this, and lock them. A glass on the door will give you the essential feature of every bathroom, a mirror.

Use Empty Walls For Storage

No matter how small the bathroom, there's usually wall space left after the major features are installed. In modern building this space is not simply left there; it's used to the fullest limit.

At the entrance to the bathroom, which is frequently a small hallway type of construction, or on one of the walls adjoining the bath tub or bowl, you may have several feet of space extending from floor to ceiling.

For a space of this type have three or four recessed shelves of the open type constructed. These can be used for towels, bath mats and other such accessories.

You'll still have two or three feet of space from the floor to the place where the shelves begin. Use these for two or three drawers. These may contain additional soap supplies, bathing aids such as brushes, bathroom cleaners, or extra supplies of cosmetics and tooth paste or shaving supplies.

Space above the wash basin or bowl is ideal for a medicine cabinet with a mirror door. It's convenient, right at this place, and this is a good place for the mirror.

Wall space elsewhere in the bathroom, especially any that's on the upper half of the wall can be used for cabinets, medicine or storage. Shadow boxes which are recessed into the walls are also decorative as well as good for storing towels, wash cloths, mats and shower curtains.

Vanity in Bathroom Offers Convenience

Having a vanity or a dressing table in the bathroom offers great convenience in many respects. If your wash basin or bowl does not have enough of a ledge on which to set bottles of cosmetics, combs, brushes and pins, you can imagine the great joy of the vanity.

In addition to this, having the vanity, even a small one in the bathroom, frees the bedroom from much clutter and transfers it to a room where any spilled powder or lotion is much easier to clean.

Vanities in the bathroom easily take the place of the dressing room. This might offer further incentive to investigate the possibilities of the project, especially if it can be managed, and you do not have room for a "powder" or dressing room.

There are several ways in which the bath can be modernized to take care of the project. If your bath tub does not extend all the way from one side of the room to the other, or take up a whole wall, in other words, there might be a small space at the end of the tub where it could be constructed. Clay tiling will provide an excellent top while a skirt will complete the vanity. Place a mirror on the wall above the top. This may have light fixtures on either side if light is essential.

Vanities can be built around the basin simply by extending the top with tiling, enough to make a table. If you have the room, bring out tiling and set on a table top which has a sunken box with a lid for tissues and cosmetics. In this case when the top lid is opened, the mirror is on the inside of the box and will stand straight up.

Provide Bathroom With Drying Facilities

Grandmother always had a convenient basement for her laundry, but in modern homes we like more convenience. Let's face the fact that today's bathroom has to be a miniature laundry for daily sudsings required for hose, gloves and underwear.

Most of these are quick-drying and hardly worth the trouble to bring to the basement if you have one, especially when they can be washed so readily in the bathroom. Keep them neatly off the towel racks, however, if you want to avoid family feuds.

One excellent solution to the drying problem is a rack constructed at the end of the bath tub, especially in the case of the tub that does not extend all the way to the wall. One side of the rack can rest on the floor, the other against the ceiling. Six or more horizontal bars give wonderful drying space for daily laundry as well as towel drying.

Then, too, there are other drying aids which may be attached to the back of the door or on wall space in the bath. They vary all the way from folding racks or shells or hooks for such small items as socks, hose and hankies.

There's nothing quite like the current luscious colors for adding newness and pep to the out-dated bathroom. Specially finished wallpapers can be used in many of them, while clay tiling and plastic finishes may be more practical for you.

If part of the bathroom is painted, as frequently happens with the upper half of a tiled bathroom, choose a new color for a good change.

Fixtures may often be modernized at little expense. If the sore spot in your bathroom is the old-fashioned light hanging from the ceiling, you may find it will cost little to install fluorescent type lighting, or at least wall fixtures with a more modern look.

Don't neglect such small fixtures as new rods, soap containers, corner shelves or plastic shelves which offer storage as well as beauty.

When the bathroom is used by several people, make ample provision for the towels they use, both for hands and bath. Towel racks for the youngsters should be placed low enough for them to reach readily, thus discouraging the draping of wet and dirty towels on the side of the tub.

If towel space is at a premium, use the swingout racks with two or three rods rather than the horizontal bars.
